

My reason for going to Japan was to learn trade law from one of the leading nations in the world trade arena. I was not disappointed. It was challenging but exciting.

My experience at Yokohama National University was a fulfilling one. I was able to graduate with a Masters degree in international and business law. The MEXT scholarship allowed me to study without any worries. Additionally, I learnt kyudo and a lot of soft skills, which continue to help me through life up to the present, as well as life-long friends. I found the Japanese to be very friendly, helpful and accommodating, and I was able to adapt easily. I would recommend the Monbukagakusho (MEXT) scholarship to anyone looking for academic advancement.

Mrs. Teisha Mattison is an international lawyer with work experience on 3 continents.

Teisha Mattison
Yokohama National University
2000-2004, Masters